*A Singer song-writer Lee Juck's picture book, followed by his first picture book ONE DAY

This is a story that reminds us of past encounters and friendship traced by a story of Halley's comet and a lovely star.

Here is a little star standing alone, glittering with dull monochrome life in the sky. One day, Halle's comet flies by, and the little star was so excited to say hello. He wanted to be comet's friend but the comet just brushed past him. After 76 lonely years, a comet passes by again not being able to slow down, he leaves a message for the little star – he wants to be friends as well! Little star is no longer either lonely or sad because he has a friend who is going to visit in regular basis even 76 years later.

Author Biography

Lee Juck studied in Sociology at Seoul National University, and debuted as a singer in 1995. His representative songs including <Run across the sky>, <I didn't know that time>, <It's fortunate>, <Lie lie lie> are composed and written by himself, and he wrote short fantasy fictions entitled 'Fingerprint Hunter' and picture books such as 'One Day', 'Things We Took for Granted'.

Illustrators

Jin-hee Lee studied in Western painting at Sungkyunkwan University in South Korea, and was honoured for her illustrations at the first CJ Picture Book Contest. She worked for independent publishing with her drawings, and held her private exhibition in 2017.
