Autumn is a harvesting season. Insects living in the deep forest are busy preparing the autumn festival. They are going to share the delicious food and make a wish while looking at the moon. For the event, Honeybee and Ms. Flower-bee are working on making wish candies, which will be sprinkled at the night sky. Honeybee is looking forward to taking the job, but other friends say that looks better on Carpenter bee who is lacking in confidence in flying due to his small wings. Looking at him, Honeybee decides to help him with flying and sprinkling wish candies so that all would enjoy the festival.
