

Colourful Creampuff

PUBLICATION DATE 25 September 2020
FORMAT Hardback
EXTENT 56 pages
CATEGORY Picture book
SIZE 200*245mm
RIGHTS Sold to Hong Kong, Macau, Taiwan

A picture book illustrated like comics appearing 5 creampuffs, all very different characters, who go out the bakery towards the world for finding oneself project by stuffing with each filling and taste.

The story begins with five empty puffs pastry dreaming of being wonderful creampuff. Their journey to seek their own fillings does not go smoothly. The first puff pastry meets hot red bean bread who is good at singing. As he wants to sing well, the first puff decides to fill red beans in his puff. While consoling the crying mandu who had his side ripped, the second puff pastry gets into the spicy sauce from the mandu, so he makes a decision to become spicy puff instead of creampuff.

Following how even those puff pastry go on a search for who they are, readers also can listen to their inner voice, 'What do I love the most?' and 'What makes me happy?'

Author Biography

Jian Kim is an artist and illustrator of children's books from Seoul, South Korea. She studied animation in college and became interested in picture books after encountering the work of Anthony Browne. She lives in Incheon.