The story of life drawn with scenery encountered while riding a bicycle in the four seasons.

“Life is like riding a bicycle. To keep your balance, you must keep moving” – Albert Einstein

This story is packed with various feelings from our life, told solely through pictures. Following a girl who rides a bicycle, we can feel the excitement of starting, persistence to move forward, being a part of the scenery, and the courage to get back up after falling.

The girl's trip is filled with repeated ups and downs and new encounters amid loneliness. When we close this book after a long journey with her, we may feel our breathing is short and our legs are sore, but we will still find ourselves trying to move forward.
