

The Spell for Happiness

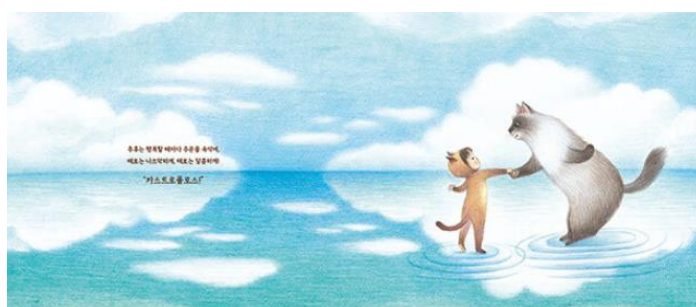

PUBLICATION DATE 21 August 2021
FORMAT Hardback
EXTENT 52 pages
CATEGORY Picture book
SIZE 283*245mm
RIGHTS World Available except China

A heart-warming and hopeful picture book

When you sigh, this cat, Chu-hu, will be there for you, leading to anywhere you can relax and chill. On the top of a mountain or a field with flowers, you can breathe deeply, run as fast as you can against the wind and have a good laugh, which would take a load off your mind. Then, he offers a magic spell, “Castropollux” which means ‘be happy at all times’ has originated from Greek and Roman mythology.

This story begins with the author/illustrator’s cat, Hu-chu. When she depressed or exhausted, Hu-chu sits on her lap purring, and she found that sound supporting and comforting her. The author worked this book hoping readers can take comfort and feel happy from it.

Author Biography

Sook-hee Choi studied in Industrial Design at Seoul National University in South Korea, and has been working for picture books.

She won Sokia Award in 2003, was selected as ‘this year’s illustrator’ at Bologna Children’s Book Fair in 2005 and at Sweden the International Library in 2007. Her books such as <It’s Okay>, <Me Too>, <Did I Really?>, <When I See You> are published in many foreign languages, including Simplified & Complex Chinese, Thai, Indonesian, and English.