An exhilarating and suspenseful picture book being chased and chasing between humans and animals.

Alert! Alert! Animas have escaped from a zoo!

Animals are holed up by using their physical features and humans are following them, narrowing down the search area. You may laugh at police just running and looking ahead, but realize yourself rooting for animals who hold their breath and hide.

Author Biography

So-ri Kim was awarded the 4th Woongjin Junior Picture Book Contest.

She often gets a wild imagination when she looks at the scenery passing by on the bus. At times like that, she feels like dreaming with her eyes open, so she captures the moment into a story.

Through this book, the author is throwing a question – Is zoos truly able to be a house for animals who are kept and exhibited to the public.
