A girl sets out on a trip to a Winter Town, where snow-covered forests and the appearance of deer in the backyard create a magical and enchanting winter atmosphere. Fantastic and glamorous illustrations capture the sense of wonder and beauty of this magical winter setting.

The girl is full of excitement as she arrives in a very cold winter town on a snowy day. Everything is unfamiliar, but the news of the occasional deer visit in the backyard fills her with anticipation. But deers are not easy to see, and her longing for them gets bigger. Eventually, she ventures into the snowy winter forest to see them for herself.

We all have countless "deer" in our minds. On that day in the woods, the girl embraces a whole new set of dreams in addition to her desire to meet the deer. The book reminds us of the meaning of longing for something and the value of growth for those who go through it.

Author/illustrator Biography

Naomiyang studied Textiles and Garments at university and is working as an illustrator. When she was a little girl, she was terrified with 'Jaws' produced by Spielberg's first motion picture and she went to bed shaking under the covers up to her toes. But now, she has become an adult who enjoys horror movies and ghost stories.
