“Good morning! Welcome to the convenience store.”

This picture book contains the daily lives of regular customers of the convenience store, which Manager Mr. Bunny meets every day. The things he learns from meeting them briefly every day become their own stories.

This book makes us appreciate the beauty of our daily lives, such as the small changes that we have overlooked and the faces of those who have passed by us. The author captured our ordinary in drawings. You can realise how amazing it is to see their expressions, movements, and emotions, even without detailed faces.

Let’s find out what the best recipe would be the convenience store’s products, the laundryman’s favourite snack, and which stores lies in this neighbourhood.
