Meet Story Black series which intrigues children to discover the world between fantasy and everyday life. A strange, mysterious, but heart-warming story with a sharp message reflecting society's most controversial contemporary issues.

<The Red Marbles>

Gun-woo and his parents were once residents of the countryside, living with his grandmother. However, they have now uprooted their lives and moved to a bustling city surrounded by towering apartment buildings. As Gun-woo's parents become engrossed in their busy schedules, he finds himself frequently alone in their new, unfamiliar home.

Amidst the adjustments, he begins to hear strange sounds and experiences an eerie sensation of someone's presence lurking about. On account of the busy parents, Gun-woo needs to stay at home alone which is still unfamiliar with him, and sometimes he gets a strange sound and feels a sense of someone going around. And there are a girl who start to work as a resident maid and her younger sister, insisting that that his house was actually theirs out of the blue. Is Gun-woo going to protect his parents and their house from these peculiar girls? Who are they?

Key features

- Strong contrast effect between light and dark, black and red
- Well-balanced between folk tale and modern society issues
- An exquisite, thought-provoking book to help children understand the importance of a family who take care of each other rather than pursing material affluence
