A story of Grandpa Acorn who presents a kind heart, inspiring an appreciation for exploration of the seasons in the natural world.

When spring has come, Grandpa Acorn started to clean up the hot tub and spa tools to welcome his guests coming out of hibernation. The first guest was hardly recognized due to being covered by dirt and clumps of hair, but he could find his figure with the help of Mr. Acorn. His hot spring is open to everyone all the year over, converting into a pool in summer so that sweltering animals can cool down and turning into a plaza in autumn where to share delicious fruits together.

And when winter comes around, Mr. Acorn can have a bit of me-time preparing for next season.
