Let me invite you to the Petal apartment where to convey the value of kind consideration.

This petal apartment is always noisy and crowded due to the rude resident animals. Pig falls cookie crumbs down here and there, Kangaroo is on the treadmill working out all day, Monkey covers in graffiti on every wall, and Elephant loves pushing all of the button of the lift.

One day, a new neighbor comes to the petal apartment, hugging bunch of flowers. Everyone is staring to dream of an apartment fits into a flower garden and doing right things such as erasing scribbles, exercising outside, recycling, picking up litters, and so on. With the story, children can learn how to deal with conflict within neighborhood and how to start considering for others in society.

About the author:

Eun-ha Baek was given a nickname as 'flower piece illustrator' because she worked with pictures made with pressed flowers. She had several exhibitions starting with 'Flower thief in midwinter' in 2001 and worked with Amorepacific Group, Sheraton Walker Hill, and so on. She is an author and an illustrator.
